

[Mary Jungman]

Jane Olson—2-3-36

Miss Mary Jungman, 1210 W. Washington ave. B. 173 GERMAN

Miss Jungman was born in Madison, Wisconsin, Dec. 10, 1855

Miss Jungman's father, Henry Jungman, put on the first amateur plays in Madison, in the city hall, about 1860. Miss Jungman took part in these plays at the age of five and has done a great deal for amateur productions among the German people of Madison. The first play produced by Miss Jungman's father was "Wm. Tell."

Miss Jungman's parents came from Mecklenberg, Germany, June 1st, 1855. One the trip over from Germany, the drinking water gave out. The crew of the sailing vessel took water from the ocean boiled it and then caught the steam, which when condensed made suitable drinking water. story
